

Musical Festival On May 5th

The annual School Musical Festival for the Olds School Inspectorate will be held at Didsbury on Friday, May 5th.

Over 400 entries have already been received by the secretary, Mr. J. W. Halton, and competitors will be present from the 92 rural schools and the 4 town schools in the inspectorate.

The school and various churches in town will be available for the various competitions. In the evening a concert will be held in the Opera House in which the prizewinners in each of the competitions will take part.

LOCAL & GENERAL

Ed Buhr, who is manager of an elevator in the Lethbridge district, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Buhr, last weekend.

Gordon Caithness, who is attending the Technical School in Calgary, spent the Easter vacation at his home here.

Bring your dry cleaning to Berscht and Sons—our prices are lowest.

Knox United W.M.S. will hold their Easter thank-offering meeting on Tuesday, April 18th, at 3 p.m. in the church. A noted speaker from Calgary, Mrs. A. M. Scott, will address the meeting. All interested ladies will be heartily welcomed. This is an opportunity none should miss and the W.M.S. members hope many will respond to their invitation. A social hour will follow the meeting.

Champion Steer Raised at Didsbury

The baby beef steer which won the open championship at Calgary stock show and sold to Safeway Stores for $1.00 per lb. or $770.00, was raised by Mr. Bob McFarlane, who sold the calf to Arthur Nord last fall.

This calf was from the imported Earl Domino 18th, which Mr. McFarlane purchased at the Chicago stock show two years ago. The McFarlane herd of Herefords is one of the top herds in the district.

Travel Pictures at Jr. Board of Trade

Mr. Frank Williams, of Calgary, gave a travel talk and showed several films of splendid moving pictures after the regular meeting of the Junior Board of Trade on Thursday evening last. A number of guests were also present at the lecture.

Mr. Williams presented moving pictures taken by himself of the Empire Exhibition at Glasgow, rural Scotland and England, London, Vienna, Budapest, Praha, Zurich, Berlin and Paris. He gave an outline of the places he visited during a very interesting tour.

Mr. A. A. Thomas acted as chairman and on behalf of the Board of Trade thanked Mr. Williams for his instructive and interesting lecture.

Mrs. Pidgeon Freed of Olds Drug Charges

Mrs. Stella Pidgeon, former matron of an Olds nursing home for babies, was freed of charges of administering a drug (paregoric) to infants in her charge, in Olds police court last Wednesday afternoon, when Magistrate F. J. Briegel dismissed the case.

Dismissal came at the request of Defence Counsel A. Bury, who asked the court to either try his client or dismiss the charges. Sergeant J. W. Causey, acting for the Crown, had sought further adjournment until a key witness, Mrs. M. Burchell, returned from a visit to the United States.

The case had been adjourned several times previously owing to the absence of Mrs. Burchell.

Notice is hereby given that the assessment roll of the Town of Didsbury for the year 1939 has been prepared and is now open for inspection at the office of the secretary-treasurer from ten o'clock in the forenoon to four o'clock in the afternoon on every day which is not a public holiday, except Saturday, and on that day from ten o'clock in the forenoon until two o'clock in the afternoon, and that any person who desires to object to the entry of his name or that of any other person upon the said roll or to the assessment of any property or to the assessed value placed upon any property, must within thirty days after the date of this notice lodge a complaint in writing with the secretary-treasurer.

Dated this 13th day of April, 1939.
W. A. AUSTIN,
Secretary-Treasurer.

WEDDINGS

REIBER-WATSON

A very charming wedding took place on Saturday afternoon, April 8th, in Scarboro Avenue United Church, Calgary, when Eileen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Watson, Calgary, became the bride of Arthur W. Reiber, B.Sc., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reiber, Didsbury. Rev. Dr. Robert Paton was the officiating clergyman.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a quaint teal blue frock, fashioned with full skirt with white lace flounce showing below the hem. The high neck line and three-quarter length sleeves were also edged with the same lace. With this she wore a teal blue straw hat finished with a wimple and white flower, lace gloves, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception, attended by 35 guests, was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. J. Oliver, Shelbourne St.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Watson and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reiber received with the bridal party.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow and white spring flowers and the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers.

Mrs. Oliver was assisted in serving by Mrs. M. J. McCrimmon, who cut the ices, and Mrs. E. G. Foley, who presided at the tea urn, both aunts of the bride.

Mrs. Victor Valentine served the guests, assisted by the Misses Mary, Betty and Lyle Watson, sisters of the bride, also Misses Joan, Doreen and Audrey Jean Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Reiber left for Spokane and on their return will reside in Didsbury, where Mr. Reiber is a member of the local High School staff.

Mrs. Reiber is a former member of the teaching staff of the Llanarthney School for Girls, Edmonton, and is also a member of the Edmonton Art Club.

Guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reiber and Mayor C. E. Reiber, Didsbury; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reiber and Mr. Don Reiber, Olds; and from Calgary: Rev. Dr. Robert Paton and Mrs. Paton; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Watson; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Oliver; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Foley and daughter Patricia; Misses Mary, Betty and Lyle Watson; Misses Joan, Doreen and Audrey Jean Oliver; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morrow; Mr. A. J. E. Liesemer; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Valentine; Miss Lois Anderson; Mr. Ronald Vernon; and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McCrimmon, Carstairs.

Tennis Club Organize

At the annual meeting of the Tennis Club, Alf Bruno Jr. was elected president, Bill Ross vice president and Rena Mowers secretary-treasurer.

Extensive plans were made for the betterment of the courts. New nets and tapes will be purchased and arrangements are being made for the resurfacing of the courts.

The courts will be opened for playing right away which will be the earliest opening for several years.

It was announced that two cups had been donated for local and inter-town tournaments which forecast lots of activity during the season.

Celebrates 91st Birthday.

Mr. Tom Lee, celebrated his 91st birthday on Monday at the home of Mrs. C. Cummings in Lacknerville, when a number of friends and neighbors gathered to wish Mr. Lee many happy returns and presented him with many gifts.

Mr. Lee is an old settler in Alberta and settled in the Berrydale district west of Olds in the early nineteen hundreds. In the early days Tom was an active citizen of the district and a great sportsman. His sporting yarns were always enjoyed.

Knox United Church Notes

The services next Sunday will be at the usual hours and will be in charge of the minister who will discuss the topic "The Rising Tide of Secularism." A hearty invitation is given to all.

"Vimy Night"

Vimy Night was celebrated by the local branch of the Canadian Legion on Saturday evening last and took the form of a smoker.

The evening was spent in singing old songs and telling stories. Many old members recounted their experiences at the front around Vimy.

Comrade John Thomas was in the chair but said he was 'nt in the engagement so he'd let the others do the talking.

Items of Interest

It may have been due to "Social Credit" precedent in Alberta, but at any rate the members of the Saskatchewan legislature voted themselves a $200 increase in indemnity on the closing day of the recent session. Henceforth they will draw $2,000, the remuneration that prevailed in the pre-depression period.

World's fairs in U.S. will lure many a tourist dollar from Canada this summer, but indications are that the Dominion, chiefly as a result of the Royal visit this spring, in the aggregate will gain much more than it will lose. Alberta anticipates that 750,000 tourists will leave $4,500,000 behind.

Because he felt that his "application of the Gospel to social problems" had caused many to withdraw their financial support from Knox United Church, Calgary, Rev. Dr. Warwick F. Kelloway, pastor, has announced his resignation from his charge at both morning and evening services.

Plant Breeders and Chemists Assuming Important Role In Life Of The Farmer

Every year new names appear in the "Seed for Sale" advertisements of Canadian farm journals. Erban, Cartier and Vanguard oats, Renown, Thatcher and Coronation wheats, Nobar barley, Laurentian Purple Top Swedes and hybrid corn are examples. The trend is clearly away from many of the old familiar varieties, says G. R. Snyder, Soils Chemist. The proven creations of the plant breeder are rapidly meeting a definite need in the struggle against unfavorable weather, rust, frost and prickles!

Each new variety has some specific qualification that makes it particularly useful. Erban oats are strong strawed and resistant to the two most damaging species of leaf rust; they are specially popular, therefore, in sections where leaf rust is a factor in reducing yields. Vanguard oats, again, are resistant to stem rust and are popular in many sections of Western Canada. Renown wheat is one of the best in the West, and Coronation, a leaf rust-resistant variety, is reviving the hopes of spring wheat growers in the East.

Of no less importance to the grain grower, from the standpoint of disease control, are the new ethyl mercury phosphate-dust seed disinfectants. Their use prevents damage from seed-borne diseases such as covered smut of wheat and barley, the smuts of oats, seed decay and root-rot. The ease of their application and the fact that the treating can be carried out before the rush of seeding begins has greatly enhanced their popularity. Seeds protected from decay and root-rot organisms germinate more uniformly and vigorously, thus ensuring a good stand from an average rate of seeding.

Interesting, too, is the statement made by Professor G. N. Dhunke, head of the Department of Chemistry, O.A.C., Guelph, when discussing the results of the 1938 variety and fertility experiments, before the members of the Ontario Experimental Union: "If any particular variety is to be given its best possible chance, the factors which limit the fertility of the soil must be removed."

Again, at the annual meeting of the Ontario Field Crops and Seed Growers' Association (now named "The Ontario Crop Improvement Association") Professor Ruhnke stated that, "good as our cropping system has been it has not been good enough to maintain the fertility level of our primary national resource, the soil. It has, therefore, become necessary to supplement manure and crop residues with commercial fertilizers."

The plant breeders and chemists, creators of these and other scientific aids to producers of high quality crops are thus assuming an increasingly important role in the life of the farmer. To benefit fully from their creations, the farmer must learn to appreciate the particular merits of each and its application or adaptation to his own special conditions.

Medical Theory Argued

McGill University Students Get The Short End On Debate

Blaming unrequited love for toothaches and rheumatism, McGill University law students Richard Weiden and Ted Piper, lost an inter-faculty debate to Rhoda Henderson and Sonya Elkin of the Royal Victoria College, who upheld the motion that "it is better to have loved and lost than not to have loved at all."

The girl students claimed love was the "actual and purest essence of life," and that not to have loved at all was equivalent to not having lived. Painting, poetry, literature and life, they said, had been enriched by the experience of those who had loved and lost.

Basing their argument on a medical theory that lost love affected the parathyroid gland, the law students argued the calcium-providing gland was turned from its normal functions causing toothaches and rheumatism from affected teeth and bones.

Telling The Truth

Incredible Stories Which A Reporter Was Able To Verify

I once knew, in Baltimore, a man who told stories as lurid and as incredible as those told by, for instance, Casanova or Benvenuto Cellini. People listened because the stories, untrue on their face, still had the quality of high romance.

There was one story the scene of which was laid in a small town in southern France—Nîmes, I think. It had to do with a bull-fight, and the sudden substitution of my friend for the regular matador, and with his great victory over the bull. One man who had heard the tale found himself in Nîmes, and decided to investigate just to prove how great a liar this Baltimorean could be. He sought out the mayor, asked him about the incident, and then, to his surprise, discovered that the whole incredible business was true in all its details.

Other individuals investigated, when occasion arose, still other stories, and in each instance found them verifiable. The supposed liar was gradually acquiring a reputation for extreme truthfulness, but unfortunately he died before he could cash in upon his reviving reputation. Baltimore Sun.

Book By Dr. Dafeo

Semi-Medical Work To Be Published Under Government Auspices

Establishment of a health education centre at Callander, home of the Dionne quintuplets, was recommended by the Scientific Advisory Committee on Child Hygiene, which met recently in Ottawa.

The semi-medical book to be written by Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, the quintuplets' physician and a member of the committee, will be among material to be made available to parents at the centre. The book will deal with what science has accomplished for the five famous sisters. Many other steps to improve conditions for Canadian mothers and babies were discussed at the meeting and will be referred to the Dominion Council of Health.

Dr. Dafeo, who took an active part in the discussions, did not indicate when he would begin writing the semi-medical book on the quintuplets which will be published under Government auspices. It is believed the work will be undertaken shortly so that copies of the book may be distributed in French and English this year.

A Painstaking Artist

Celebrated Painter Of Ancient Greece Did Almost Perfect Work

To Xenis celebrated Greek painter of ancient times, Agaharcus, another artist, boasted of the ease and celerity with which he executed his paintings.

"If I should boast," replied Xenis "it would be of the slowness with which I finish my pictures."

In the garden of this painstaking artist, a visitor saw a picture of a dish of grapes held by a boy where in the grapes were painted so naturally that the birds came to peck at the fruit. He sought to compliment Xenis upon the perfection of the picture, but the artist laughingly replied, "Ah, yes, the grapes, but mark you this: had I painted the boy as true to nature as the grapes, the birds would have been afraid to touch them."

C.B.C. Policy

Broadcasts From U.S. Commentator Were Rejected

In keeping with its policy of not permitting sponsored news commentary on the air, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation a few months ago turned down an application for network time for a series of sponsored broadcasts by H. V. Kaltenborn, United States commentator, the parliamentary radio broadcasting committee was informed by Gladstone Murray, CEC general manager.

That series would have succeeded an autumn series by Beverly Baxter, Canadian member of the British House of Commons, sponsored by a motor car company. Mr. Murray added that Mr. Baxter's series had not been cut off but had expired.

The new policy against sponsored news on CBC stations would also have the effect of removing from CBL, the CBC outlet at Toronto, the broadcasts of Lowell Thomas, at the expiration of his sponsor's present contract at June 30.

Answering questions asked earlier by committee members, Mr. Murray said CBC owned and operated six stations, had two under construction, leased and operated two others. There were also 86 private stations in Canada, of which 78 were on standard wave-bands and eight on shortwave.

From April 1, 1938, to Feb. 28, 1939, receiving licenses issued numbered 1,266,093, of which 8,000 were for duplicate sets and 28,378 automobile sets.

There were about 250,000 radio receiving sets in Canada for which licenses had not been obtained in the present fiscal year. Mr. Murray estimated, though he admitted the radio trade's estimates were considerably higher. To a question from a committee member, he added the figure included those radio owners on relief from whom no attempt was made to collect license fees.

Mr. Murray then continued the main part of his evidence, beginning with a description of the program activities of the CBC. The old Canadian Broadcasting Commission devoted about 38.99 per cent. of revenues to programs and the CBC, formed in 1936, had increased it to 41.53 per cent. by Jan. 1, 1937, 50.28 per cent. in the fiscal year 1937-38 and 51.67 per cent. for the period from April 1, 1938, to Dec. 1, 1938.

Speed Of Comets

Travel 300 Miles A Second When Close To Sun

Comets do not have constant rates of travel, speeding up as they near the sun. Those that approach the sun closely attain speeds in that position as high as 300 miles a second, or more than a million miles an hour. Meteorites travel at speeds as great as 40 miles a second (144,000 miles an hour), but slow up when they invade the earth's atmosphere, striking the earth at rates of speed of from 400 to 500 feet a second. ### An Old Relic

Curling Trophy Located In Winnipeg After Missing From Regina For 40 Years

More than 40 years ago, Lieutenant-Governor Charles Macintosh, of the North West Territories, presented a handsome silver trophy to the Regina Curling Club for competition in the grand challenge event of the Regina bonspiel.

While poring through dark corners of the storeroom of Winnipeg police headquarters, Storekeeper Dave McIntosh, namesake of the former lieutenant-governor, came upon the trophy.

"Where it came from nobody knows," Chief of Police George Smith declared. "Some of the old timers say they remember seeing it more than 30 years ago in the old police station on James St., although I can't recall having seen it before. How it got there and here is a new one on me."

Interested himself in curling, Chief Smith wrote to Chief of Police Martin Bruton, of Regina, asking him to try to find out how the cup reached Winnipeg. "The Regina Curling Club has asked that the trophy be returned," said Fred Graham, secretary of the Saskatchewan Curling Association. "It will be kept among the souvenirs."

"Apparently the cup was among stolen property and eventually landed up in Winnipeg. It was donated long before there was an association," he said.

Fur Will Be Exclusive

Scarf Of Platinum Fox Will Cost At Least $5,000

There is a new fur on the market which has the advantage for those who can afford it of being more expensive than sable or chinchilla, previously the aristocrats of the fur trade. It is platinum fox from Norway, and a single scarf may be purchased for the modest sum of $5,000. Not many will be seen on the streets of New York, for there are only four pelts available at present for distribution in this country.

The fur was obtained by crossing an albino fox with light-toned silver vixen. The skins are said to be like floating clouds, varying from gray to pure white. Only eleven pelts were produced this year and no more than that are expected next year. At this rate it is fairly certain that platinum fox will not cut deeply into the sales of lapin or pony or set a fashion which is compulsory.

Two Distinct Offices

Lord Chamberlain And Lord Great Chamberlain Have Separate Duties

A correspondent asks a definition of the difference between the lord great chamberlain and the lord chamberlain. The former is he who deals with the claims of possessors desirous of attending the state opening of parliament, while it is to the latter you apply when seeking to attend one of Their Majesties' courts. The sovereign appoints the lord chamberlain, but the lord great chamberlain, as to put it, appoints himself. That is to say, he is head of one of these families in which the honor is vested, and who hold the appointment in turn. The present "Lord Great" is the Earl of Ancaster whose father had the office when King Edward VII. was king.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE

Director "Crop Testing Plan"

"Farmers lose, over a term of years, as much money from root-rot damage to their crops as they do from black stem rust."

This startling statement was made to me several years ago by a leading Canadian authority on plant diseases. All that I have heard since tends to confirm what he then said.

But we know that rust has taken on the average, over a term of years, about 10 per cent of the farmers' crops. The toll taken by these root-rot diseases, too, therefore, must be very great. Can anything be done to stop this large steady annual loss?

Fortunately for the farmer it has been found that treating the seed before sowing with mercurial dust, Ceresan or Leytosan, greatly lessens damage from root-rot diseases.

The mercurial dust treatment has the further advantage that it will also prevent damage from stinking smut or bunt.

The use of fertilizer, too, sown into the ground with the seed, is now a common practice on our prairies. With it the crop matures earlier, shows a higher yield, and the grain has a better grade. Besides this, fertilizer certainly decreases damage from wire worms. It is good practice, and farmers, I recommend, should certainly consider it.

Following factors have tended to raise prices: France to reduce duty against Roumanian agricultural products -- Absence of Australian wheat offers -- Unlikely world crops will equal those of 1938 -- Californian fruit crops damaged by severe wind -- Unfavorable Argentine government corn report -- Wind damage modifies excellent Italian winter wheat prospects.

Following factors have tended to lower prices: Argentina putting larger quantities of wheat afloat -- Italy agrees to purchase Yugoslavian wheat and corn -- France reduces quantity of foreign Durum permitted in mixtures -- Favorable new corn crop prospects in South Africa -- Wheat and oat seeding starts in Argentina.

Varieties of Wheat For Alberta

The damage done to wheat by rust in a few isolated areas in the South-eastern portion of Alberta, and the publicity which has centred around recently introduced rust resistant varieties of wheat has resulted in a lot of uncertainty among farmers as to which variety they should grow in 1939, states G. E. DeLong, Assistant superintendent, Dominion Experimental Farm, Lacombe, Alberta.

The separate grading of Garnet wheat which has resulted in a spread in the prices offered for the Northern and corresponding Garnet grades has made the situation still more unsettled.

The result is that farmers are wondering if they should use a rust resistant variety to protect themselves against possible rust epidemic, and whether they should substitute a variety for Garnet in districts where early fall frosts have to be taken into consideration.

Most of the rust damage which occurred last year in Alberta was directly attributed to improper farming methods. Varieties which were not rust resistant were seeded around the first of June, and these fields, because of their late maturity, were seriously damaged by rust before they were ripe. Had these fields been seeded at the normal time of seeding, early in May, they would have been ripe before any damage had taken place. In a normal season, these late seeded crops would have been frozen by early fall frost.

Rust never has been, nor is it likely to be, a serious problem in the major portion of Alberta. For that reason it would not seem necessary to replace standard varieties with rust resistant sorts. The varieties now in general use in Alberta can be depended on to give the usual results in yield and grade. In districts where it is believed there is a danger from rust epidemics, a rust resistant variety such as Thatcher, Apex or Renown might be tried.

There are areas in the park belt and the grey wooded soil area of the province where Garnet is the only variety that can be grown with any assurance of success. Reward and Red Bobs are the only varieties which could be used to replace Garnet. Unfortunately both are later maturing than Garnet. In addition Reward tends to produce bronzy colored kernels, and Red Bobs produces starchy or piebald kernels when grown under certain conditions of moisture and temperature, both of which tend to reduce the commercial grade of the threshed grain of these varieties. The use of a suitable commercial fertilizer tends to increase the yield per acre, hasten maturity and improves the commercial grade, when these later maturing varieties are used to replace Garnet.

Marquis is still the standard used for the establishment of commercial grades. It is the most dependable variety for the marginal prairie and the open plains portion of the province where rust and early fall frosts are not factors to be taken into consideration.

It should be borne in mind that there is no one best variety for all districts, and that the old proven varieties are the most dependable thus far, and may give better returns than some of the recently introduced rust resistant varieties in areas where rust has not seriously lowered the yield per acre and the commercial grade.

Rugby Notes

A most successful 3-act play entitled "A Little Bit of Fluff" was staged in the Hall on the evening of April 5th. It was under the direction of Mr. P. Worthington, who was also one of the leading characters. All those who took part are much to be congratulated on the masterly manner in which the whole play was carried out. After supper dancing was indulged in to the music of the Rugby Merry-makers.

On Thursday afternoon Rugby W.I. held their April meeting in the Hall, with an attendance of 17. Owing to the absence of the president, the vice-president occupied the chair. Various matters of business were discussed and settled. A short course in dressmaking will probably be held during the summer, and there is a likelihood of the travelling clinic coming to this district this year. Reports from the conveners of Education, Canadianization, Legislation and Handicrafts were given. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Hall Board for use of the hall. The meeting closed with the national anthem and lunch was served. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Wahl.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Parker entertained the ladies of the community at a quilting party. Fingers and needles were busy and by the end of the afternoon a very nice quilt was ready for the finishing touches before being sent to its destination.

Westcott Notes.

At the Westcott United Church on Easter Sunday, Messrs. Jack and Alex Robertson sang the tenor and bass solos from Stainer's "Crucifixion," and the Easter anthem, "Christ Our Passover," was chanted by Rodney Webster.

Burnside Notes

Mr. Jack Clarke, principal of the Langdon High School, is spending his holidays at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhinehart Fritz (nee Gertie McLean), who spent the winter in Ontario, returned to Alberta last week and will make their home with the latter's father, Mr. Hugh McLean.

Mr. Ronald Lyons of the Calgary Normal School is spending the Easter holidays at his home here.

Lone Pine W. I. met at the home of Mrs. B. Woods on Thursday of last week. Roll call was answered by "What I have learned from the W. I." The draw was won by Mrs. Chris Ehret while Mrs. N. Eckel won the contest put on by Mrs. Woods.

Miss Tena McLean, R.N., of Ponoka, spent the week end with her father here.

Mr and Mrs. Wm. Cones Jr. have purchased the Woolner place and are moving on it this week. Bruce Shiels who formerly occupied the place has moved to the George Shiels place for the summer.

Mr E. B. Anderson who had spent the winter in Calgary while Mrs. Anderson had been taking medical treatments, returned to his farm here last week.

Mr and Mrs. Stanley Goyné (nee Alberta Metz) moved here from Alliance last week with their effects and will take over part of the Metz farm.

"The Sisters."

Adapted from the best-selling novel of recent years by Myron Bring, and co-starring Errol Flynn and Bette Davis, "The Sisters," a teeming drama of life in the early nineteenth century, comes to the movies this Friday and Saturday. Besides the two stars, the cast includes such notables as Anita Louise, Ian Hunter, Beulah Bondi, Jane Bryan, Alan Hale and many others.

The picture depicts the era when fashionable ladies boasted of sixteen-inch waists, six-inch pompadours and wore birds on their hats. All of these fashion foibles are staging a comeback, according to Ory Kelly, who planned the clothes that Miss Davis, Miss Louise and Miss Bryan wear in the picture.

Better Prospects For Alberta Livestock

Lean years in Alberta's beef cattle industry appeared on the wane, according to livestock authorities who saw in the annual spring bull sale, the most successful in a decade, the commencement of an extensive rehabilitation program for range herds.

While there were many other factors entering into the situation, federal and local officials connected with the beef business said the quarterly U.S. quota, open to Canadian animals at 1½ cents duty, was probably the most important.

That quota means a fixed outlet for just about all the good animals Alberta can produce for the next two or three years and the opinion is it will not be filled for 1939.

Canadian Iron Ore

Recent Discoveries May Enable Steel Mills To Draw Material From This Country

New possibilities in the development of Canadian iron ore produced only in small quantity up to now—have been opened up by the Ontario government's recent discoveries at Steeprock Lake, 135 miles northwest of Port Arthur, and by the probability other deposits exist in Quebec's north country.

Geologists reporting to the annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy at Quebec told of what had been found in the two provinces to support the hope the Dominion's steel mills can draw their material from this country.

The convention of more than 1,000 mining and metallurgical experts drawn from coast to coast elected B. L. Thorne of Calgary as its president at the final session. He succeeded E. A. Collins of Copper Cliff, Ont., who was made the institute's first life member after 30 years in the organization. Mr. Collins is mayor of Copper Cliff.

GAY HANDWOVEN RUG A REAL JOY TO MAKE

Weave Easily on Child's Hoop

Such an air of cozy cheer this colorful woven rug lends to your favorite nook.

And you can make it easily, quickly on a child's large hoop with strips of any kind of cotton or woolen material—your last year's dress, Bobby's old jacket.

Wind a strip of cloth around the hoop. Cut 4 strips three or four inches wide, fold in raw edges to make strips an inch wide and stretch them across the hoop so they look like spokes in a wheel as in the diagram.

You weave with a long strip which you pin on the hoop next to one of the "spokes", then work over and under the "spokes" adding extra spokes as you go. Simple, you'll find, as darning!

You can weave lovely pillow tops and doilies, too, on an embroidery hoop "loom". Or weave gay knitting bags using a dishcloth as a base. And very smart and easy is a belt and bracelet set woven of colorful raffia on a cardboard "loom".

Our 32-page booklet gives complete directions, diagrams for weaving these and many other beautiful and useful items such as purses, scarves, sewing baskets, place mats, cozy afghan.

SELECTED RECIPES

LEMON CUSTARD SAUCE

2 cups scalded milk
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon Benson's or Canada Corn Starch
4 tablespoons sugar
Few grains salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
Scald milk. Beat together egg yolks, corn starch, sugar and salt. Pour hot milk over this mixture and again cook. When thickened, remove from heat; strain and add lemon rind. Six servings.

BLACK CHOCOLATE CAKE

2½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon each soda and salt
½ cup butter or other shortening
2 cups sugar
3 eggs, well beaten
4 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter; add sugar gradually, creaming thoroughly. Add eggs and beat very well; then chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with water, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in greased pan, 10 x 10 x 2 inches, in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) 1 hour and 10 minutes. This cake is delicious with the following frosting:

Sour Cream Frosting

2 cups sugar
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped walnut meats
Bring sugar and cream to a boil, stirring constantly. Boil, without stirring, until a small amount of syrup forms a very soft ball in cold water (232 degrees F.). Cool to lukewarm (110 degrees F.); beat until creamy and of right consistency to spread. Add vanilla and nuts, spread quickly. If necessary, place over hot water to keep soft while spreading.

A Sound Education

Instruction In Citizenship Is Recommended In Report To Manitoba Government

The advisory committee on youth training, organized by the Winnipeg board of trade, recommended in its report to the Manitoba department of education, that the school curriculum include a sound education to fit the students for citizenship in a democracy rather than for entrance to a university of particular vocations.

"In view of the fact that only about five per cent. of our school children enroll in our universities, it is suggested that less attention be given to university entrance requirements in framing the new courses of study," the report said. "This implies that while the university must maintain a proper standard of intellectual capacity for entrance, it will take a more flexible attitude towards subjects accepted for admission."

The committee was formed by the board of trade. It required two years to complete a report on the school curriculum and an occupational survey. The committee also organized a body of business men and labor representatives to assist in running a vocational school in Winnipeg.

NEW DRESS SHOWS WAY TO CHIC

By Anne Adams

With Spring coming along at a fast clip, you'll soon find yourself in need of distinctly new frocks like Pattern 4040. Isn't it a "darling"—reflecting as it does fashion's love for soft panels, and print-and-plain combinations? It proves once again how talented Anne Adams is as a dress designer. . . for the style is as simple to make as it is charming to look at! If you like, you can run up your frock in one, instead of two fabrics. And you may cut your sleeves long instead of short—though you'll find it hard to resist the cunning button-trimmed effect of the brief sleeves! Even the belt may be worn two different ways!

Pattern 4040 is available in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 2½ yards 39 inch fabric and 1 yard contrast.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send order to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Only Five Thousand Guests

List For Royal Garden Party In Ottawa Now Closed

The maximum number of persons to be invited to the Royal garden party at Ottawa in May is 5,000, it was learned at Government House. This function is primarily for residents of Ottawa, who have regularly called on and paid their respects to the Governor-General.

Since announcement of the garden party the vice-regal home has been deluged with people seeking to sign their names in the visitors' calling book, while letters from out-of-town persons requesting invitations inundated officials.

It is unlikely that the invitation list will go beyond those regular callers in Ottawa and equally unlikely that those who signed the Rideau Hall visitors' book after October 9 last year will be included in the list. This was the date on which the Royal visit was announced.

The list has now been closed, it was learned.

Dormant Volcano In Mexico

Crater Is 1,500 Feet Deep And Seamed With Sulphur

Popocatepetl is a dormant volcano rising 17,543 feet, about 40 miles southeast of Mexico City. It is the second highest peak in Mexico, Orizaba being 438 feet higher. The crater is an ellipse a half mile by one-third mile in size, and about 1,500 feet deep. There is water in the bottom of the crater which seeps out through fissures and is converted into steam which issues near the base of the peak through mineral springs. The sides of the crater are seamed with sulphur.

There Was A Difference

Proud Owner Sure His New Car Was Up To Date

An examining officer at one of the larger border ports sent the Editor the following little story:

A was proudly showing his new sedan to B.

"But I thought your other car was less than a year old," said B. "You only drove it about 8,000 miles, didn't you?"

"Oh, yes, it was still as good as new," replied A, "but of course it was hopelessly out of date as soon as the new and improved model came out."

"Just how is the new model different?"

"Well, you can see at a glance. The automatic cigar lighter is an inch nearer the steering wheel this year,"—National Revenue Review.

Gardening

Start Grass Early

Grass makes its most rapid growth in cool weather. On this account, lawn work of a new or repair nature should be carried out just as soon as the soil is fit to work.

After digging, the ground should be allowed to settle for a few days at least and then levelled again. It is advisable to repeat this process several times. The top soil should then be raked fine and the grass sown at a liberal rate, once across and once lengthwise. This double sowing insures an even distribution. Seed is sown on a day when there is no wind.

For permanent lawns of deep green color and fine texture, good quality package seed is advisable. In covering, the gardener is advised to rake one way only and then firm the soil with a heavy roller or pounder.

Remove Weeds

Unless the ground has been thoroughly cultivated and then allowed to lie idle the year before there is bound to be a good deal of weed seed in the soil. Some of this will germinate after the lawn is sown. Such weeds should be removed constantly, especially in the earlier stages.

Afterwards a good lawn fertilizer every year will push the grass along sufficiently to choke out most of these offenders. The first cutting of the grass is made when about three inches high and should be done with a very sharp mower. Frequent rolling when the ground is soft and regular mowing is advised.

When Soil Is Ready

It is useless, in fact decidedly bad business, to work soil too early. If stirred up when wet it is liable to cake into hard lumps, that will be hard to break down later on. If when walking over the garden, ones boots become muddy then the time is not yet. Soil fit for cultivation should crumble when squeezed gently in the hand, not compact into a ball.

Liquid ammonia will remove rust from copper. Polish well afterward with a good copper polish.

TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

by DR. J. W. S. McCULLOUGH

DANGER FROM BURNS

About 45 per cent. of fatal burns occur during the first five years of life. Why is this? Chiefly because of the carelessness of parents, nurses and servants. Three out of five death-dealing burns occur in women and girls. From the fourth to the thirty-fifth year, there is a relatively high death rate in females. Between the ages of five and nine, twice as many girls as boys die from burns. After thirty-five there is a higher death rate from this cause in men than in women. In old age the rate is again higher in women. Burns in women are more frequent because of the type of dress they wear. These fatalities in women usually occur in the home. They are commoner in winter than in summer.

According to the damage they do, burns are classified into those of first, second and third degree. In burns of the first degree, the skin becomes inflamed and reddened. Except for the pain caused this degree of burn is not very serious. In second degree burns, the skin is reddened and blisters form. Third degree burns include those of great severity including charring of the skin and deeper tissues.

The danger of a burn usually depends upon the extent of surface skin involved. The simplest and most convenient household remedy for a burn of, say, the first two degrees is the application of a strong infusion of tea. This remedy has been used by the Chinese for 5,000 years. In all cases of any severity the aid of a doctor is necessary, but the use of tea as an emergency measure will relieve the pain and make the victim of a burn comfortable.

(Editorial note: Make tea double strength, cool, and apply generously over burn. Soak bandages and keep them wet so they won't stick. A new skin forms over the wound from the tannic acid in the tea. This tannic acid may also be bought in most drug stores in powdered form and is inexpensive.)

Inheritance Tax

Several States Collect Large Sums From Green Estate

Massachusetts won in the United States Supreme Court in its contest with three other states over the right to collect an inheritance tax from the $36,137,335 estate left by Col. Edward H. R. Green, son of the famous Hetty Green.

Massachusetts claims $4,947,008 of the estate, Texas $4,685,057, New York $5,910,301, and Florida $4,663,857. The Federal Government already has collected $17,520,987.

Born in England in 1869, Green engaged in business and politics in Texas until 1911. Thereafter he lived in New York City and maintained palatial homes at Round Hills farm, South Dartmouth, Mass., and at Star Island, Miami.

He weighed 315 pounds and had a cork leg. He engaged in varied activities, his interests ranging from politics and astronomy to minstrel shows and the private life of the boyl weevil.

The litigation was begun by Texas, which asked the Supreme Court to determine Green's domicile.

British India, Ceylon, Java and the United Kingdom supply Canada with most of its tea, chiefly in unprepared form.

Japan was the only large country increasing the use of American cotton last year.

A man in the company's uniform came up to her, touching his cap. "Beg pardon! Is there anything we can do for you? Would you like a taxi? I mean, where are you going?"

"To San Jose; to Danavale." She turned round then, coming out of her abstraction, painfully aware, suddenly, of the curious throng. Her face flamed. She gathered up the blanket and shook it and tried to wrap it around her.

"We haven't another plane to-night."

"I must telephone my father," Sarah Lynn said. "Where?"

The bride ran after her and caught hold of her arm. "Say, listen, sister," she said in a high, sweet voice, "are you in a jam?"

"I'm quite all right," Sarah Lynn said stiffly.

"Well, is that nice? Throwing you out like a sack of mail? Is that a good old Norse custom?"

"I want to telephone."

"Here—I'll show you!" She picked up her glistening train.

Sarah Lynn followed her. "Is this Fresno?"

"Well, for Pete's sake! Didn't you know where you were landing? Yes, this is Fresno, and here's your booth. I'll wait for you."

"Thank you," Sarah Lynn said coldly. "It's not necessary." She looked fully at her for the first time and took in the details of white satin and filmy veil and orange blossoms. "I mustn't keep you from."

"Oh, that's all right!" she said easily. "It's just one of my weddings! Married in Hollywood and flying to Frisco and set the ship down to say hello to a bunch of nit-wits. Go ahead and telephone your folks." The young man had followed them and he said something to her in a low tone. She nodded. "Don't shut the door, dearie—you'll smother in that box. I'll stand right here."

The youth lit a cigarette and strolled away, but kept within hearing distance.

"I want Danavale 3704. Yes. It's a suburb of San Jose. I want to speak to Mr. Dana—Mr. Edwin Lynn Dana."

There was at once panic and reassurance in the sound of her father's voice, thick, drowsy, amazed. "It's Sarah Lynn. I'm at Fresno. Fresno. F-r-e-s-n-o! Why, I flew down. Flew! With Gunnar Thorwald. What? I don't know where Duncan is. Oh, Dad, please—I'll explain everything when I see you. How can I get home? I haven't any money." She was silent, listening. "Yes, at the Fresno airport. Shall I wait here? What? All right. Yes; the California hotel and ask for Mr. Pond. How soon can you get here?—Tell Mother not to worry, please! I'm perfectly all right. Yes—I understand—Mr. Pond, California hotel." Her voice, thin, strained, hoarse, warmed suddenly. "Oh, Dad, it was glorious—glorious!—yes. Good-by."

The young man came close to her, speaking with controlled excitement. "You're Miss Dana? From Danavale? I used to work on the newspapers in San Jose. You flew down with Gunnar Thorwald? Well, of course you did," he grinned, "but what I mean is, weren't you going all the way to Glendale with him?"

"No," Sarah Lynn said briefly, aware now of the avid curiosity in his gimlet gaze.

"Isn't it a fact he vowed he'd never take a woman up in his ship?"

"Yes."

"And then he kidnaps you in a blanket and—"

"He did not," she defended him hotly. "It wasn't his fault—I mean, he didn't intend—" she stopped, confused.

"Why did he dump you out like that? Didn't you ask him to set you down at Fresno? But you didn't know it was Fresno, did you? I guess maybe it was a pretty wild party, wasn't it? Do you mind telling me just how—"

The bride put a protective arm about the forlorn, thin figure. "Lay off the interview, Beanie! Isn't it a girl's privilege to get out and walk home when she wants to? Probably the Great Dane got a little too primitive and she—"

"No!" the girl said vehemently. "It wasn't his fault! I told you it wasn't his fault!" She walked away from them, her blanket spreading out behind her like a train, and spoke to the uniformed attendant. "I want a taxi, please."

"Did he take our picture?"

"Wait!" the bride ran after her. "There's a flock of cars here. I'll have somebody drive you. Look—I'll come with you myself!"

"Please don't trouble," Sarah Lynn was rigid. "I want a taxi, please."

"No trouble, lambie! Hi, Larry!" she hailed the groom. "Listen, angel; I'm driving this child to the hotel. Back in a jiff." She flung her long white gloved arms about him and gave him a painstaking cinema kiss. "No, of course I won't run out on you, beautiful! You just stay here and play with your wooden soldiers and the first thing you know it'll be Christmas morning!"

The young man spoke to her in a low voice. "Hold everything for a sec', will you, Kit? I want to get the two of you together, with your train and her blanket. Boy, is this a wow or is this a wow?" He beckoned to a man with a camera who came swiftly forward. "All right, Mike; make it snappy."

The bride arranged her veil and settled the little lace cap, and thrust her arm through Sarah Lynn's. "Come along, babe! Well, will you look who's here!"

Sarah Lynn glanced up. There was a soft explosion, a dazzling flash.

"Stick!" the reporter said gleefully. "It's a knockout!"

"Oh!" Sarah Lynn cried out in panic. "Did he take our picture? He mustn't! My mother would be—"

"Don't you worry! I know how his stuff turns out—we might as well be a couple Native Belles of Mo-zam-bee village. Here we are, hon!" She shepherded Sarah Lynn to a car garlanded with white streamers. "California hotel, Tommy, my lad, and let 'er step!"

The instant they were out of hearing the youth flung himself upon the telephone and shouted a number.

"Hello! Nick? Say, feller, just pin the ol' ears back and listen! What a story! Ready? Gunnar Thorwald, Norwegian ace, who has just flown the Atlantic, and who had taken a vow never to fly a woman in his ship, set the Hermod down at Fresno at 2:45 a.m. and unceremoniously landed Miss Sarah Dana, of the famous Danavale colony, exclusive suburb"—he drew a reviving breath and went on—"of San Jose, and I got a picture that's a honey—the gal in a formal and a blanket—blanket, yeah, b-l-a-n-k-e-t, standing beside Kitty Medill, Wild Womans of the Air, Hollywood's stunt-flyingest fool and her nth bridegroom!"

The big and beautiful lobby of the Hotel Californian was dimly lit and drowsy, the exquisite Regency cocktail room was asleep, but the man behind the desk was wide-awake and cordial.

"Why, hello, Miss Medill!" Then he laughed. "Beg pardon! I mean, Mrs. Van Dalton!"

"Old stuff, big boy. Don't you ever read the papers? Sure, I'm another bride. I checked the groom out at the field while I brought you a customer. This is Miss Dana from up north. She was flying to Los and changed her mind, and she wants to stay till her folks come for her. Make her comfortable, will you?"

"Gladly!" His puzzled gaze went from her bridal finery to Sarah Lynn's blanket. "Will you register, Miss Dana?" A buzzer sounded behind him and he turned to answer the telephone. "Yes, Mr. Pond?—just arrived this minute. Very well, Mr. Pond." He turned back to them. "Miss Dana, your father telephoned. Mr. and Mrs. Pond will be right down. Won't you have a chair?"

"Then everything's a-jake, and here goes the bride!" She waved aside Sarah Lynn's stammered thanks with a heavily jeweled, well-decorated hand which was slightly grimey. "You tell your Big Swede I don't like his fireman's hat! Tell him all the regulars over here wear boudoir caps." She gave her a comradely hug. "Don't let it get you down, dearie! By!" She spread out her satin train, dropped her eyes with suddenly reserve, folded her hands and went out of the lobby with slow and timid steps, balancing uncertainly on the balls of her feet at every pace, humming tenderly—"Here comes the bride—"

The hotel man and his wife came hurrying down immediately, kind, concerned. Mr. Pond understood perfectly; her father had explained the situation and asked them to make her at home until he arrived; it was a privilege to be of some slight service to her father's daughter.

Sarah Lynn felt that Mrs. Pond understood even more perfectly. She was equally hospitable, but her shrewd, bright eyes were evaluating the frowsy hair, the bedraggled dress, the blanket. "I'll make you a cup of chocolate, and you must have a good hot tub."

"And a sound sleep," her husband added. "Your father can't make it under four hours, so you must just relax and be comfortable."

Danavale rang and rocked with Sarah Lynn's exploit. Mary Dana Webster went at once to the parents and stated her firm conviction that the child had been drugged, but Arline slid out of their questionings like quicksilver.

The nonagenarian summoned Sarah Lynn. "Your Great-Granner wants you should come over, quick's ever you can get here," the flat tones of Emma Waters, the maid, stated over the telephone.

The girl set out at once, the greyhound flashing on ahead. Lightning was a solace in the first very vocal days of Danavale's disapproval.

The matriarch was chirping and cackling with excitement and approval. "Well, I declare, Sairy Lynn, if you didn't up'n put out same's I did! Crawled into the flyin' machine and hid just like I did in the covered wagon! Don't surprise me a mite! Proud of you. And I'd admire to meet your beau sometime. You fetch him over to see me, Sarah Lynn."

Her great-granddaughter crimsoned. "Great-granny, he isn't at all! He despises me. You don't understand. He is furious because—"

"Oh, well, now, don't you fret!" the ancestress comforted her. "Your Great-granner was kind of like that, first off. Some are. Thought they'd ought of sent me back and was real harsh in his talk, but land—he come round in no time. You'll see!"

Sarah Lynn went upstairs where her Cousin Sally Ann was having tea with her Uncle Lynn. They were the most satisfactory of all her adherents.

"After all, it was a gorgeous adventure," the travelling clanswoman said. "At your age I'd have adored it."

"I did," Sarah Lynn said quickly. "I do. Only—the way it happened—"

Lynn Dana said, "I've just remembered a chap I know rather well, an airman, Conrad Jordan. He's undoubtedly met this Gunnar lad, or he will, and I intend to see, Sarah Lynn, that he gets the truth."

She flushed hotly. "Oh, that's good of you, Uncle Lynn, but you mustn't bother. It wouldn't make a bit of difference to him. I mean—he has such contempt for— for everybody mixed up with it—"

"When you come abroad with me we'll do a lot of flying, Sarah Lynn," the older woman said. "I like it enormously. The glamour never goes out of it for me."

They were casual, comfortable; Sarah Lynn stayed on and on, listening while they talked to each other. She walked home in the dusk with her greyhound pacing demurely beside her.

She found the old governess reading ardently, with four library books opened about her.

"I'm just refreshing my mind a bit on Norse history and legend, my dear," she greeted her charge, lifting pale, protuberant eyes. "I was rather rusty, so to speak. Quite marvelous people, the Norsemen. The Vikings voyaging all about Europe, conquering, learning, amazing. Women and children went along to the wars, you know. Valiant, but hard, they were. Listen to this bit"—she lifted a worn volume of history.

"The early Norseman had a keen mind, but his heart was as much steel as his sword; he loved battle and stormy seas; he admired the brave, the clever, the strong; for the old and feeble he had no interest, for the suffering no sympathy; the weak he despised."

"Yes," said Sarah Lynn. "I know."

Light On Controversy

Contents Of Letters Between British And Arabs In 1915 Revealed

Light has been thrown on the 24-year-old controversy between the British Government and the Arabs over the promises alleged to have been made to the Arabs when Britain's Lawrence of Arabia was encouraging them to revolt against the Turks during the World War.

The publication in English of letters which passed between the British and the Arabs in 1915 has now revealed their contents. They were written in Arabic, but the Arabs, in connection with the deadlocked conference with the Jews and the British Government in London, had insisted that the letters be translated and published.

The letters were exchanged by Sherif Hussein of Mecca and Sir Henry McMahon, First High Commissioner to Egypt.

The first letter, from the Sherif, invited Britain "to acknowledge the independence of Arab countries" in the Arabian peninsula and mentioned the Mediterranean as the western boundary of that area.

Successive British Governments have maintained that Palestine was not included in the area. No official British view has been stated since publication of the correspondence but it was believed both sides still held their original conflicting views.

Much of the difficulty about these letters comes in the fact that the originals were in Arabic and were difficult to translate. Besides, Palestine was not mentioned, as it did not exist under that name at the time of the Anglo-Arab negotiations. At that time, the Holy Land was divided into administrative units known as sanjaks.

The letters threw little new light on the dispute as to whether McMahon included Palestine in his bargain with the Arabs, but they confirmed the belief that the late "Lawrence of Arabia", long pictured as a romantic hero of the desert, was a clever British paymaster and instigator among the Arabs.

Perhaps the most interesting aspects of the McMahon letters is their frankness about British payments and supplies of arms and ammunition to the Arabs. The letters give the impression that Hussein had only to ask, and he received. The correspondence is also remarkable for the unctuous quality of the salutations and greetings which passed between two "traders".

Relations Are Friendly

The London Daily Express says good feeling abounds between Great Britain and the Free State. Trade between them has reached a high figure. The relations between the two people are on a first-rate basis. Bombs will not divide them. There will be no recriminations. On the contrary the two nations will join together to use all their resources to crush out this ugly viper.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Mrs. Corbett

"I was a nervous, irritable, and nervous. I could hardly do my work and never a day I had to go to bed. I had become pale and thin. Time the very first bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People I began to feel better. I continued using it and in a month I felt like a new person. Ask your druggist what you can do to feel like this."

TAKE THE "LEAD" FEELING OUT OF YOUR LEGS

Get More Oxygen In Your Blood and Get the Pep that Sends You Bounding Up the Stairs

People who smother to death die because oxygen has been completely cut off from them. Just as surely you are slowly smothering if your blood lacks red corpuscles. Red corpuscles are your oxygen-carriers. They carry the oxygen you breathe in to every part of your system. Without enough oxygen-carrying corpuscles, your kidneys, liver, stomach and bowels slow down. Your skin gets pale, flabby, often purple. Your nerves may become jittery—you tire quickly—feel depressed.

What you need is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These world-famous pills help make more and better red corpuscles and thus increase the oxygen-carrying power of your blood. Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today at your druggist. See for yourself how quickly this time-proven blood-builder will help give you back your pep. Copyright 1926, Dr. J. C. Williams Co., Ltd.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!
